

Rulemaking: Federal Register and CFR

BY: DOMINICK GRILLO

ACROSS

- 2) This part of a CFR entry lists the statutory authority for the rule (two words, no space).
- 4) Both Direct Final Rulemaking and Interim Final Rulemaking rely on what exemption to § 553 (two words, no space).
- 9) The Federal Register (FR) is the official ____ of the United States Government.
- 10) The method by which a president can change the administrative process (two words, no space).
- 12) The CFR and USC are arranged by subject areas called ____.
- 13) Usually appearing twice a year in the Federal Register, this unit contains information about regulations currently under development (two words, no space).
- 14) To find rules that were promulgated under specific statutory authorities use the "____ of 15) Authorities and Rules" (two words, no space).
- 18) This section of the Federal Register does NOT amend the CFR, but still should be made public. In this ordering of CFR units, what unit completes the list (and is the smallest): Title, Chapter, Subtitle, Part, Section, ____.

DOWN

---

- 1) Going by the acronym NPRM, it contains, among other things, proposed changes to the CFR, publishes the proposed text, and solicits public comments on the proposal (four words, no space).
- 3) Final Rules are published in this section of the Federal Register (three words, no space).
- 5) When Congress enacted the ____ Act in 1946, it was the first time it had adopted rulemaking procedures (two words, no space).
- 6) Where to find a complete transcript of House and Senate debates and activities (two words, no space).
- 7) This part of a CFR entry identifies where the final rule is published in the Federal Register (two words, no space).
- 8) Most Final Rules are effective ____ days after publication in the Federal Register.
- 11) Be aware when using a service such as e-CFR or federalregister.gov because these are not ____ versions of the relevant sources.
- 16) The print version of the CFR is updated on a ____ basis (how frequently).
- 17) This type of Rule does not amend the CFR as they are not permanent changes, but only short-term.

This crossword puzzle features clues related to the CALI Lesson "Rulemaking: Federal Register and CFR." Scan the QR code to access the CALI Lesson and the interactive version of the crossword puzzle.